If you do not have these you may want to read with care because they do disclose that there were earlier affidavits and they do refer to records relating to you and your requests. The description of the earlier affidavits may or my not be ~~truthful~~/self-serving. If you did not get all the records referred to and relating to your request, why not ask for them? ...Seems like they placed too much dependence on their dirty-workings with me in the first spectro case. It didn't last. Once they could not make further chnages in the Act before the appeals court they switched to the Congress, where their chances are, I think, better. ...If the enclosures suggest anything interesting, let me know.
